Lenten Resolutions: We tend to think of Lenten resolutions as things that we will give up for Lent, like chocolate, or sweets in general, or coffee. We think it should be something that feels like a true sacrifice. These can be good things to do to build our will power and to help us focus on what is important in our lives. Instead, or in addition, it might be a good idea to do something extra for Lent. One can join a Bible study group or other parish discussion group that will help us grow in our spirituality or prayer life. We can also sacrifice our time to do things that will help others. We can offer to drive people to church, or to doctor appointments. We can cook a meal for someone who is ill. Just think about what might be a benefit to others and give it a try.

PEACE CORNER TOUCH

May God be with you when you feel most abandoned. May you find God around the corner from your perception and waiting to embrace you with unconditional love. May the nearness of the hidden God be revealed to you in the hands and hearts of those who journey with you. Then may your hand be extended to those around you who are looking for the loving touch of God. May the hand of God, the God of TOUCH, be with you. Sister Maxine Shonk, OP
